

A New Chapter for Children's and Family Ministry at St. Philip's

Michael, Cameron and Amy Smith

We are thrilled to announce that Amy Watson Smith has been hired to serve as our new Director of Ministry to Children and Families! Amy has experience working with a variety of non-profit organizations for more than twenty years. After moving to Charleston in 1995, she served as the director of the Lowcountry Arts and Cultural Council, curator of education at the Gibbes Museum of Art and director of development with Communities in Schools.

In 2005 Amy changed careers when she responded to a call to serve in our Diocesan Department of Christian Faith Formation. Several years later she accepted the position of Director of Ministry to Children and Families at St. Michael's Church where she has been a member since 2001.

Amy lives in Mt. Pleasant with her husband, Michael, college-aged daughter Cameron, and mother, Susan. Please join us in welcoming Amy when she arrives on January 10!
